She woke up one morning and felt hungry. She did not eat anything last night. She got out of bed, and walked into her kitchen. The kitchen was clean. She thought about what to eat for breakfast. She opened her refrigerator and took out a carton of eggs. She opened her cabinet, and reached for a large bowl. She carefully cracked four eggs into the bowl. She stirred the eggs with a round spoon. She turned on the stove, and placed a pan on the stove. She quickly turned the knob on the stove. The fire was lit.
